

Privacy Notice

General

This Privacy Notice sets out how Alexandros Sinka LLC (the “Firm”) processes data, whether on individuals (including personal data in respect of individuals who are clients, intermediaries or other third parties that the Firm interacts with, or any individual who is connected to those parties) or otherwise. Where the data held are on individuals, this document also sets out the rights of those individuals in respect of that personal data.

This Privacy Notice has been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”).

Who we are

The Firm is a proactive boutique law firm in Cyprus, operating out of its office in Nicosia, Cyprus, representing closely held businesses, families and high net worth individuals.

The Firm strives to protect personal data and apply high standards of conduct when it comes to privacy issues. It ensures that its employees are provided with the appropriate training in order to handle personal data promptly and in accordance with the laws. Furthermore, the Firm endeavors to ensure that any parties with whom it co-operates apply the same high standards when it comes to data protection and privacy as the Firm.

What data do we hold?

The Firm processes data in the context of providing legal and other services to its clients. The categories of data it may collect and process, according to the particulars of each case, include:

- contact details (including names, postal addresses, email addresses and telephone numbers);
- information required by the Firm to meet legal and regulatory requirements, in particular in respect of anti-money laundering legislation, including information on source of funds and source of wealth;
- information provided in the course of the provision of legal and other services (for example, information on professional relationships and background, financial wealth and assets held, transactions entered into, tax status, disputes and court proceedings engaged in);

- financial information, such as payment related information;
- meetings attended and visits to our offices;
- any other information you may provide to the Firm.

Important notice on Special Category Data

In certain instances, the personal data that the Firm processes may include "Special Category Data" (which includes information on a person's race, ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, genetic or biometric data processed for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, health data, data on a person's sex life or sexual orientation or data relating to a person's criminal record or alleged criminal activity). In such instances, legal bases for processing that data may include explicit consent (where the Special Category Data has been provided to the Firm by the data subject for any of the above-listed purposes) or the processing is being necessary for compliance with a legal obligation or for the purposes of legal proceedings or legal advice.

Why do we need them?

The Firm ensures that the data collected and processed is relevant to one or more processing activities and that the Firm does not collect or process more or less data than what is reasonably required for achieving the purpose of each processing activity. Furthermore, for each purpose of processing, there is always at least one lawful basis to secure that the rights of individuals are safeguarded by all means. The purposes of processing and the lawful basis of each processing activity are the following:

Purpose	Lawful basis of processing
----------------	-----------------------------------

To enter into client relationship and for providing the services of the Firm	In cases where an individual has been provided with this Privacy Notice and provides personal data thereafter, the processing may be carried out on the basis of consent. Consent may be withdrawn at any time by writing to info@sinkallc.com It is in the legitimate interests of the Firm as a provider of legal services to collect and process certain personal data in the context of providing those services The processing is necessary for legal proceedings, to provide legal advice or to establish, exercise or defend legal rights To perform and fulfill the contract with the individual for the provision of legal and other services
For identity verification and record and for maintaining lists for correspondence	Processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the Firm is subject
To ensure the security of the Firm's system, staff and premises	It is in the legitimate interests of the Firm to protect its business environment, staff and premises from being misused or victimized in any way and to ensure that business operations run smoothly without unauthorized interruption
To meet all legal, regulatory and ethical obligations applicable to the Firm	Processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the Firm is subject or for the exercise of functions of public authorities It is in the legitimate interests of the Firm as a provider of legal services to process data to the extent necessary to ensure that it meets all legal, regulatory and ethical obligations applicable to the Firm
For the purposes of internal know-how and training	It is in the legitimate interests of the Firm as a provider of legal services to process data for internal know how and staff training.

To follow up on comments, enquiries and complaints	In cases where an individual has been provided with this Privacy Notice and provides personal data thereafter, the processing may be carried out on the basis of consent. Consent may be withdrawn at any time by writing to info@sinkallc.com It is in the legitimate interests of the Firm as a provider of legal services to collect and process certain personal data to enable it follow up on comments, enquiries and complains in order to enhance client/user experience with the services of the Firm To perform and fulfill the contract with the individual for the provision of legal and other services
To promote, improve and further the provision of the Firm's services	In cases where an individual has been provided with this Privacy Notice and provides personal data thereafter, the processing may be carried out on the basis of consent. Consent may be withdrawn at any time by writing to info@sinkallc.com It is in the legitimate interests of the Firm as a provider of legal services to collect and process certain personal data to enable it follow up on comments, enquiries and complains in order to enhance client/user experience with the services of the Firm
For marketing purposes including sending updates on important legal developments and news about the Firm's work and invitations to educational seminars and events	In cases where an individual has been provided with this Privacy Notice and provides personal data thereafter, the processing may be carried out on the basis of consent. Consent may be withdrawn at any time by writing to info@sinkallc.com It is in the legitimate interests of the Firm as a provider of legal services to process personal data to communicate with persons on topics and events which may be of interest to those individuals
Any other purpose(s) which has been agreed by or notified to you

The firm shall not carry out any automated decision-making activities, including profiling, using your personal information.

For further information on the use and storage of your data, please visit the Firm's Data Protection Policy at www.sinkallc.com.

Sources and Recipients of data

The sources of data may include clients, intermediaries, data subjects directly, third parties connected to the data subject (for example, their employer or another service provider who provides services to the data subject) or open-source material.

Reasonable endeavours are made to ensure that data is only accessible by those with a need for access to fulfil the purposes set out above. Requests for access to be restricted in any particular manner should be made to info@sinkallc.com and will be considered and, where possible with reference to legal and regulatory obligations, actioned.

The following is a list of potential recipients of data (in each case including respective employees, directors and officers):

- employees of the Firm who are acquainted with the GDPR and have signed the Firm's Confidentiality and Non-Disclosure Statement of the Firm;
- other service providers (legal, governance or otherwise, including any bank or financial institution providing services in relation to any matter on which the Firm is instructed) where disclosure to that provider of services is considered necessary to fulfil the purposes set out above;
- any sub-contractors, agents or service providers of the Firm;
- courts or tribunals;
- third parties with whom the Firm engages for the hosting of events or other marketing initiatives;
- law enforcement agencies where considered necessary for the Firm to fulfil legal obligations applicable to it;
- regulators or other governmental or supervisory bodies with a legal right to the material or a legitimate interest in any material;
- any registrar of a public register where the data is to be included in a public registry.

Unless expressly declared in this Privacy Notice or with the prior consent of the individual, personal data collected from an individual will not be disclosed to any third party other than the above-named parties.

Where the Firm is entering into an engagement with a third party pursuant to which data may be processed by that third party, the Firm will seek to enter into an agreement with that third party setting out the respective obligations of each party and it will seek to be reasonably satisfied that the third party has measures in place equal to those of the Firm to protect data against unauthorised or accidental use, access, disclosure, damage, loss or destruction.

In the event that any such third party is outside of the European Union and where the data being transferred would include personal data which would be protected under applicable Data Protection regulation the Firm will ensure that it meets the relevant requirements of that Data Protection regulation prior to carrying out any such transfer. This may include only transferring the data where the Firm is satisfied that:

- the non-European Union country has Data Protection laws similar to the laws in the European Union;
- the recipient has agreed through contract to protect the information in the same Data Protection standards as the European Union;
- we have obtained consent from relevant data subjects to the transfer;
- if transferred to the United States of America, the transfer will be to organizations that are part of the Privacy Shield.

Rights of Data subjects

Data subjects in the European Union (or any jurisdiction with equivalent legislation to the European Union General Data Protection Regulation) have certain rights in respect of their personal data. Any such data subject wishing to exercise any rights under applicable data protection laws (including the right to withdraw any consent to processing previously given; the right of access to data; or to have data corrected, updated, rectified or erased; or for access to data to be restricted or provided to any third party; or to object to any particular processing; or to lodge a complaint with the relevant supervisory authority; or the right of data portability) should send the request in the first instance to info@sinkallc.com.

In response to such requests, the Firm reserves the right to require the individual making the request to provide certain details about himself/herself so that the Firm can validate that the individual is indeed the person whom the data refers to. The Firm is required to respond to the request of the individual within 40 days and it will endeavour to do so wherever possible. The Firm reserves the right to charge a reasonable fee to cover any expenses that may arise from the request.

In any case in which a data subject chooses not to provide any personal data, or where any of the rights set out above are exercised to limit the processing of personal data, the Firm may be unable to provide relevant services, or there may be restrictions on the services which can be provided.

Retention of Data Subjects' Personal Data

We will only retain your Personal Data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for Personal Data, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the Personal Data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of your Personal Data, the purposes for which we process your Personal Data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

In some circumstances we may anonymise your Personal Data so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such information without further notice to you. Once you are no longer a client, employee, worker or contractor of the company we will retain and securely destroy your Personal Data in accordance with Article 5 of the GDPR.

Changes to this Privacy Notice

The Firm keeps this Privacy Notice under review in order to ensure that it is in line with any changes to the laws relating to privacy and personal data. Any updates will appear on the Firm's website at www.sinkallc.com

This Privacy Notice was last updated on 10 April 2019.

If you still feel that your personal data has not been handled appropriately according to the law, you can contact the Office of the Commissioner for Personal Data Protection, at:

1 Iasonos Str., 1082 Nicosia, P.O. Box 23378, 1682 Nicosia Tel: +357 22818456

Fax: +357 22304565

Email: commissioner@dataprotection.gov.cy